• A WEEK DAY WINE-DAY ON THE SUNNYSLOPE •

9 AM

Head over to the College of Idaho, the state's oldest private liberal arts college, for breakfast at Café Bon Appetit. The café, a buffet open to the public, and its corresponding catering company, are run and staffed by students. Their food is fresh, sustainable and local. As their name says, bon appetit!

10 AM

Get your daily dose of culture by walking around one or two of the College's many museums. On weekdays, you've got your choice of the Rosenthal Gallery of Art or the Glen L. and Ruth Evans Gem and Mineral Collection.

12 PM

Make your way over to Parma Ridge Winery & Bistro for lunch. You can find breathtaking scenic views, the friendliest staff, and out-of-this-world cuisine. Don't forget to have your first glass of wine! If you like white wine, the Viognier is a favorite.

1 PM

Explore Sunnyslope! There are multiple award-winning wineries at your fingertips...so get tasting! Fun places to check out are Idaho's largest—and oldest—winery, Ste. Chapelle, as well as the brand-new tasting rooms at Koenig Vineyards and Sawtooth Winery. Be sure to check out Huston Vineyards and try their "Best Red" award-winning Malbec wine.

5 PM

If locally-sourced steak is up your alley, Indian Creek Steakhouse is your next hit on the Caldwell list. You can saddle up—literally—to the bar for an Idaho microbrew or hand-crafted cocktail, and then grab a table and order your cut of choice. Don't forget the Idaho potato!

7 PM

Take a stroll along Indian Creek and enjoy the views. During the winter months (Nov.-Jan.), you can catch the fantastic Winter Wonderland Festival—with one million LED lights on display!
